

ON-LINE WARRIOR

<http://www.logs.a.mil/pubs.htm>

This web site gets you TMs, TBs, LO, MWOs or SBs. Just click on the ETM site and follow the instructions. For supply catalogs (SC), click on the Sets, Kits and Outfits On-line and follow its instructions. Get a password by clicking on the System Access Request (SAR) link.

<http://www.armymedicine.army.mil/armymed/publications/publications.htm>

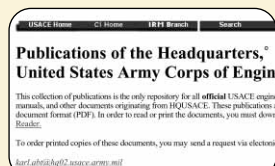

This site gets you medical unique TMs, FMs and the SB 8-75-series pubs.

How to Obtain Army Medical Department Publications

Not all Army Medical Department publications are available on the Web. The links listed below contain the Army Medical Department publications, follow the instructions on each page or contact the documents. Be sure to check DA Pam 21-1, DA-level item, and contact your local publisher for any questions.

<http://www.usace.army.mil/usace-docs>

This site gets you TM 5-series, engineer manuals, books, directives and any other publication unique to the Corps of Engineers.

BYTES

ON-LINE WARRIOR
MAKING THE INTERNET
SAFE FOR THE US ARMY!

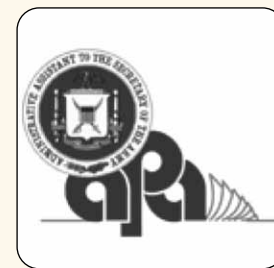

PS helps take a byte out of web site madness by IDing Army-approved web sites that offer everything from training to equipment maintenance and supply operations to readiness reporting, all designed to increase soldier proficiency.

"BUT WHAT ARE SOME GOOD WEB SITES?"

THE ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT TO THE SECRETARY OF THE ARMY HAS DESIGNATED FIVE OFFICIAL WEB SITES FOR ARMY PUBLICATIONS. HERE THEY ARE...

<http://www.usapa.army.mil>

This site is home to ARs, DA Pams and Cirs, HQDA general orders, memos and letters, multi-service pubs and DA, OF and SF forms. It provides for on-line pubs ordering and initial distribution establishment and offers an automated DA Form 2028 for changes to admin pubs.

<http://www.adtdl.army.mil/atdls.htm>

This site gets you Army doctrine and training pubs such as FMs, TCs, soldier training packages (STPs), school listings, resident and non-resident courses and correspondence courses.

THESE FIVE SITES WILL HELP ME OUT A LOT!

WHAT ELSE DO YOU HAVE?

PS MORE

OTHER
WEB SITES
OF INTEREST
INCLUDE...

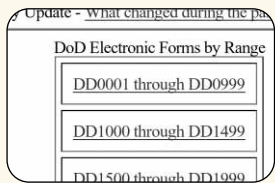

<http://www.tradoc.army.mil/schools.htm>

The US Army Training and Doctrine Command (TRADOC) offers a web site where you can access all the MOS-producing schools. Just go to the web-site and click on the school of your choice.

[http://web1.whs.osd.mil/
icdhome/DDEFORMS.htm](http://web1.whs.osd.mil/icdhome/DDEFORMS.htm)

If you need a DoD form, you need to go to the DoD web site.

[http://www.logsa.army.
mil/psmag/psonline.htm](http://www.logsa.army.mil/psmag/psonline.htm)

If you are looking for an article you read in PS Magazine, just go to our web site and check out our on-line issues—from PS 446 (Jan 90) to the present. You'll need Acrobat 4.0, or higher, to access PS issues/articles.

Don't have it?

Not to worry, 'cause you can download a free copy at our web site.

NOW YOU
CAN BE AN
ON-LINE
WARRIOR,
TOO!

THANKS!

PS END